ABSTRACT

In response to the need for instructional materials to help limited-English-proficient Laotian-speaking adults become self-sufficient in American society, ten lessons in job search and related skill areas are presented. Each lesson begins with a teacher's guide, which gives an overview of the text, notes on vocabulary and phrases, and a number of suggested classroom techniques or procedures. The remainder of the lesson consists of a list of objectives and vocabulary, with Laotian translations, text, and three comprehension tests. Lesson topics include: the job search; how to use want-ads to find a job; filling out a job application; writing business letters; writing a resume; the job interview; Social Security and completion of the W-4 form; reading the W-2 statement; reading a paycheck; and how to use and reconcile a checking account. Answer keys for the tests and a bilingual English-Laotian glossary are appended. (MSE) (Adjunct ERIC Clearinghouse on Literacy Education)

Bilingual English-Laotian Glossary. 108

Preface

This book was conceived out of the necessity and demand to provide limited English proficient (LEP) adults with instructional material especially designed to help them become economically self-sufficient.

Since his involvement as a teacher, teacher trainer and program director of ESL instruction for refugee and immigrant adults from all over the world for the past 12 years, the author of this book has been repeatedly asked to provide instructional materials to specifically teach pre-employment skills to LEP students who are interested in looking for a job to support themselves and/or their family.

The majority of LEP adult students come from countries where most of the pre-employment skills which are a must in the U.S. are unheard of, such as writing a resume, how to conduct a job interview, how to request for a job interview, etc. In fact many English words related to pre-employment skills and/or lifeskills topics such as "resume", cover letter, want-ad, bank statement , check register, etc., have no equivalents in their languages.

The English as a second language (ESL) learner is, generally speaking, a newly arrived immigrant or refugee who does not have the necessary marketable skills, and usually finds it diffficult to get even a manual or entry level job largely because of the language barrier. And according to the Pennsylvania Department of Human Services, 60 - 70 percent of newly arrived refugees and immigrants in our state are receiving one form of public assistance or another

If these new Americans want to successfully compete in the job market in their adoptive country and become proud and contributing members of American society, they must be taught pre-employment skills. For them, the learning of these skills requires not only the mastering these pre-employment skills but also their related vocabularies and concepts.

Although some ESL textbooks do cover this subject the materials presented in these books are, by and large, fragmented, unstructured and not in depth. They only contain limited or inadequate materials in terms of the number of pre-employment skills related topics. Furthermore, the format in which such lessons are presented are not pedagogically sound. Missing are reinforcement and practice drills or devices, cultural explanations, and especially bilingual glossaries. All these tools are necessary and help facilitate the learning process for the ESL learner as well as improve his/her retention As such , the materials currently available are either inadequately designed to meet the special needs of the ESL learner, or only have limited educational effectiveness as far as this learner and his/her teacher is concerned.

An extensive review of commercial and non-commercial materials/texbooks and a search through AdvancE of the Pennsylvania Department of Education and the database of the National Clearinghouse for Bilingual Education revealed limited resources and/or materials designed specifically to teach pre-employment skills to the ESL learner. This book is a humble effort to supplement the wealth of ESL instructional materials already abundant commercially and non-commercially. It was compiled to teach pre-employment skills and concepts as well as pre-employment related vocabularies and phrases.

For the past 3 years, the ESL staff of the Indochinese-American Council (IAC), a community-based and non-profit organization in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, has successfully taught pre-employment skills, using various ESL techniques and fragmented teacher-made materials, to hundreds of intermediate level ESL learners. The majority of them are Asian/Indochinese immigrants or refugees who receive public assistance. At the time of the writing of this book, the IAC was serving a small number of Spanish speaking immigrants from South America and also a good number of refugees from Haiti. The IAC's ESL students have repeatedly asked the IAC staff to teach pre-employment skills. This special ESL interest has, understandably, arisen from the desperate needs of the ESL learner not only to acquire "survival" and/or "functional" ESL skills but also to obtain pre-employment skills in order to gain employment and get off public assistance. However, no structured and/or pedagogically sound curriculum as such had ever been developed to meet the special needs of this learner.

This book was developed, using the Across-the-Curriculum Approach, and the English language is intentionally simplified wherever possible, and written at the intermediate or higher ESL level. The Across-the-Curriculum Approach promotes the use of non-ESL or content materials such as history, biology, social sciences, etc. to teach ESL. In our endeavor, textbooks and/or materials on pre-employment skills were adapted to teach both pre-employement/survival skills and ESL.

The end product was field-tested by the ESL instructional staff at the Indochinese-American Community Service Center in Philadelphia where ESL instruction at different levels is offered to hundreds of LEP adults every year. Two workshops on the development and use of the product were conducted for the benefit of the IAC staff, and ESL instructors, volunteers and program directors in the city of Philadelphia.

The book consists of:

1) 10 ready-made and structured lessons that can be used as they are, or easily adapted for ESL students at the intermediate ESL level or for those with a fairly good command of the English language. Besides the Teacher's Guide decribed below, each lesson begins with the list of objectives and the Key Words and Their Laotian Translations. To reinforce and evaluate the skills taught, each lesson contains three tests covering key vocabularies/expressions and concepts. The answer keys to the tests can be found at the end of the book, just before the English-Laotian glossary.

2) In addition to the Laotian translations of key words and phrases/expressions which serve as an integral part of each lesson, a cross-referenced bilingual glossary in English and Laotian can be found at the end of the book. The translations are context referenced. This serves as an excellent reference and learning tool for the ESL learner, because bilingual dictionaries usually list all possible meanings for each entry, which sometimes can be quite cumbersome and confusing, thus making the search for relevant meanings difficult, if not frustrating, for the ESL learner. Finally, with its limited number of entries, our bilingual glossary is quite handy and easy to use.

3) The Teacher's Guide contains:

a) the Text Overview describing what is covered in the lesson;

b) the Key Words and/or Phrases for Discussion with a list of words and phrases that the teacher should take time to cover in order to help the learner understand the concepts in the lesson. These words and phrases are face-bolded in the lesson for easy recognition and are listed in the Bilingual English-Laotian Glossary.

c) step-by-step suggestions to teach pre-employment skills such as pre-reading; use of the bilingual glossary; use of simple language and vocabularies, and basic grammatical structures already acquired in meaningful examples to teach new vocabularies and expressions; the use of synonyms and antonyms, prefixes and suffixes; oral and written practices of key vocabularies and concepts, etc.

Despite the author's efforts to minimize mistakes and shortcomings, he believes that this book in its present form has plenty of room for improvement. This is partly because of the time constraints and partly because of his lack of experience in the teaching of pre-employment skills. However, the fact that he has published extensively in ESL instruction and cross-cultural communication, and has many years of experience in teacher training and ESL instruction, has proven quite helpful in his endeavor. It is hoped that the user of this book will kindly help improve this humble effort by sending suggestions and comments for future revision to the address listed at the end of this preface.

All of the IAC's multi-lingual, experienced ESL instructional staff members were involved in the different phases of the making of the book: input, experience sharing, identification of key vocabularies and/or expressions, test writing, proofreading, editing and field testing, etc. Before their involvement in the project they received extensive training in the form of a series of workshops conducted by the author, covering a variety of topics including the purpose and contents of the book, the characteristics of the targeted student population, test writing, the Across-the-Curriculum Approach, and various ESL teaching techniques. The staff's involvement was an educational process beneficial to them in terms of professional growth and commitment and also beneficial to all those to whom they will teach ESL and pre-employment skills. Their involvement with the preparation of the book and knowledge of the underlined purposes of the book will certainly help them succeed in their task.

The author wishes to thank the following ESL instructors for their involvement and participation in different phases of this project : Nick Kleinerman, Le Quyen Vu, Samnang Keo, Hilary Appel, Samuel Moser, John Truong Nguyen and Piros Mar. The author also wishes to thank Todd Blumenfeld for his important contributions to the research and the writing of the lessons, and Messrs. Michael Prakansa and Somkhouane Sourivong for the Laotian translations.

At any rate, the author is fully responsible for the contents and publication of this book.

Last, but not least, heartfelt thanks go to Dr. John Christopher, Director of the Bureau of Adult Basic and Literacy Education, Pennsylvania Department of Education, and his staff for their generous funding, support and encouragement.

Without the involvement, encouragement and support of all those mentioned above this book could not have come together the way it has, and it simply would not exist. Thanks!

Teacher's Guide

LESSON 1

THE JOB SEARCH

I. TEXT OVERVIEW

The major goal of this first lesson is to familiarize the students with the "job search process" and the ways they can begin such a job search. Students will be encouraged to formulate their own plan to find a job, utilizing the skills and knowledge which they will acquire in this lesson.

In order to develop "job leads", the teacher should teach the students how to use newspaper "want-ads", in both the larger daily newspapers, as well as the smaller community oriented papers. The process by which students can ask their teachers, counselors, friends and family members for assistance will also be discussed.

Additional resources such as private employment agencies and government job centers will be identified, along with discussions which will serve to describe the particular functions of each.

Developing "job leads" through the preparation and use of inquiry letters and the telephone will be covered, as well as recognizing "help-wanted" signs in store windows, and the skills and strategies necessary to respond to such signs.

Names of subscribers are alphabetized.

III. TEACHING SUGGESTIONS

The following are suggested steps to teach each lesson, but of course the teacher should use whatever techniques he/she feels comfortable with:

2. using simple language, summarize the main theme(s) of the lesson as well as its objectives;
3. encourage the student to study the Key Words and Their Laotian Translations;
4. teach the lesson using different techniques such as the use of antonyms, prefixes and suffixes, oral and written practices of key vocabularies and concepts, information questions with "what", "who", "why", "when", "how", etc. Furthermore, capitalize on already learned vocabularies , grammatical structures and concepts in teaching new vocabularies and concepts in a meaningful context, using examples or sentences to make the point or explain the lesson;
5. review what has just been taught;
6. go over Key Words and/or Phrases for Discussion;

III. THE JOB SEARCH

Almost everyone has to look for a job at some time in their life. Looking for a job is not always easy, and many people say that looking for a job is really a job in itself. But if you take time to plan your "job search", and think about all of the different ways to find "job leads", your search will be a lot easier. Some of the more common approaches to finding jobs are described below.

A. "HELP-WANTED" ADS

The first and maybe the easiest place to start your job search is the "help-wanted" ads in the newspaper. As you read through the want-ads, you will be able to find out a great deal about the jobs that are available in your city or town, what types of skills are required, and how much you will earn if you work at particular job.

Want-ads are often written with a lot of abbreviations. It is important that you understand what these abbreviations of the complete words mean. You will find a list of abbreviations at the end of Lesson 2: "How to Use the Want-Ads to Find a Job", on page 17.

B. PRIVATE EMPLOYMENT AGENCIES AND GOVERNMENT JOB CENTERS

You should understand that not all want-ads represent a job lead, and that some want-ads are placed by private employment agencies which will ask you to pay a fee before they will even talk to you.

Speaking to someone at a private employment agency is another good way to find a job. As you read the want-ads, however you may notice that the ads placed by private employment agencies can sometimes be misunderstood. These agencies specialize in finding jobs for people, and they charge a fee for their service. Sometimes the company that does the hiring pays the fee to the employment agency, and sometimes the person looking for the job has to pay the fee. Therefore it is very important to find out if you must pay the fee before you spend a lot of time with an agency.

Government job centers are very similar to private employment agencies. These centers also specialize in finding jobs, but usually there is no charge for their service.

C. "HELP-WANTED" SIGNS

Many times, when a company or store has a job opening, it puts a help-wanted sign in its window or outside its building, instead of paying an agency or placing an ad in the newspaper.

As you walk down the street or drive through the city or your neighborhood, look to see if there are any "help wanted" signs. If you see a sign, you can walk in and inquire about the job opening, or you can write down the phone number and call the company as soon as possible because the job opening could be filled by the time you call.

D. FRIENDS, FAMILY MEMBERS, TEACHERS AND COUNSELORS

Very often your friends and family can be your best sources for job leads. Ask them if there are job openings where they work, or if they have friends who may know of any job openings. Also, your teachers and counselors can be a valuable source of information about job openings.

As you ask these people, write down the names, addresses, and phone numbers of the companies or stores where they work. It is often helpful to use "Job Lead Cards" to write down this information. Samples of "Job Lead Cards" are provided at the end of this lesson.

Even if there are no job openings at the present time, it may be helpful to contact these companies anyway. You never know when a job may become available.

E. WRITING LETTERS AND USING THE TELEPHONE

As you begin to compile a list of the various companies in your city or town, you may find it helpful to telephone some of these companies or write letters to them. Although there may not be any jobs available at the time, you should tell the company a little about yourself and that you are available. You may find that if a company is impressed with your interest in them, they may invite you to fill out an application.

This will also serve as a good learning experience for you. The more companies you contact, the more confident and comfortable you will become with the job search process.

And of course, there are other ways to look for a job successfully, such as the use of the yellow page telephone directory. Use any approach that you feel comfortable with.

IV. KEY WORDS AND/OR PHRASES FOR DISCUSSION

III. READING WANT - ADS

To look for a job, you should begin your "job search" with the newspaper want-ads. Ad is the shortened form of the word "advertisement".

Want-ads are found in almost every newspaper. In most cases, want-ads will be found in the "Classified" section of the newspaper.

For a company with a job opening, want-ads are very popular because with little time and expense, it can announce to many people that there is a job available in the company. The company can also say in its ad exactly what type of job it is offering; what skills or education is required; and how much it will pay.

For a person looking for a job, the want-ads are also very helpful. The ad sometimes tells the reader where the company is located; how to respond to the ad, in person, by telephone, or by letter; and the date when the response must be made.

Because the company pays for the ad based on the number of lines it contains, and because the company wants to provide so much information, want-ads are written with a lot of shortened words called abbreviations; for example, pt (part-time), empl. (employment), etc. Therefore, it is very important that you learn and understand the meanings of these abbreviations in order to fully understand what the company is trying to tell you in its ad. A list of common abbreviations will be provided at the end of this lesson.

As you begin to read the want-ads, you will notice that some of the want-ads are different, and do not give information about one particular job.

Sometimes want-ads provide the reader with information about a certain private employment agency. This is just one way these agencies advertise their services.

However, sometimes certain ads describe a lot of job openings, but you are asked to call a phone number in another state, or write for more information.

Depending upon what your interests are, or where you want to work, these ads can be very helpful. But these ads can also be very tricky. If you call a telephone number listed in an ad, and the person who answers your call asks you to send a certain amount of money known as a fee, then be careful. Also, you might call a number, and they tell you that they will hire you, but first you must pay for a special training course. Again, be very careful.

If you are interested in the above services, it is a good idea to ask a friend or a family member about the above situation before you do anything else. Sometimes the ad may describe a good opportunity for employment. Unfortunately, in most cases, you will spend a lot of money and find out that it is not exactly what the ad describes.

The best way to avoid these unpleasant and costly situations, and get the most out of the want-ads, is to read the want-ads on a daily basis, and to be sure to learn what all of the abbreviations represent.

The following are some examples of newspaper want-ads:

III. FILLING OUT A JOB APPLICATION

The employer's main purpose in having you fill out an application is to obtain important information about you. However, employers will often use the job application form to find out a great deal more about you, and about the type of work you are able to do well.

If you fill out the job application neatly and completely, this will give the employer a good first impression. On the other hand, if you do not fill it out completely, and if it is messy or has a number of mistakes, this will give the employer the impression that you are a messy or untidy person, and that your work will also be messy and untidy.

Before even talking to you, the employer can form an impression of how well you know English simply by looking at your job application.

The application usually has many different questions about you, your educational background, employment history or work experience, skills, etc. While most job applications ask for the same information, some applications use slightly different ways to achieve the same goal. Sometimes you will be asked to answer the questions by putting a circle around the correct answer. On other applications you will be asked to write out the correct answer. On some applications, you will be asked to write your first name first, while on other applications you will be asked to write your last name first. On almost every application you will see the instructions "Please Print or type", and it is very important that you do so.

The job application can tell a prospective employer a great deal more about the applicant than simply the information provided. Therefore, it is very important that you follow the instructions on the application form and fill out the application as neatly and completely as possible. Listed below are some additional suggestions for completing application forms:

- Always fill out a job application with a pen. If you are permitted to take the application home with you, type the application if possible.
- Answer every question. If the question does not apply to you, fill in the blank area with the words "Not Applicable" or the abbreviation "N/A". In this way you are indicating that you did not overlook a question.
- Always use your correct name. Do not use a nickname unless it is specifically requested.

- Always provide your complete address including your zip code.
- Always be prepared to list two (2) or three (3) references, and remember to write down their telephone numbers and addresses.
- Make certain that all words are spelled correctly.

In general, U.S. law does not permit employers to ask you questions about your race, your religion, your financial situation or certain other very personal questions or limitations. However, many job applications still request this information, and in some situations, if you refuse to answer these questions, the employer may simply refuse to consider your application. Therefore, only answer the questions you feel comfortable with or questions that are not too personal or offensive to you.

III. WRITING BUSINESS LETTERS

Business letters have different forms. The following are some of the most common forms:

A. Letter of Application

The employer will probably not interview all of the applicants who may apply for employment. Therefore, it is necessary that you convince the employer that you are one of the applicants who should be interviewed. That is why filling out the job application properly or writing a good letter of application is so important. The letter of application and the job application can help you sell yourself to an employer even before you have the opportunity to meet him/her.

Many times, writing a letter of application may be the only way to get a personal interview and be considered for a particular job. Listed below are some of the situations when you should write a letter of application:

- When you want to apply for a job in another city;
- When you answer a newspaper want - ad that specifically asks you to apply by letter through the mail;
- If you want to apply for a job, through a specific person, based upon a referral from a family member or friend;
- When an employer requests that you write a letter of application; or
- When you are simply inquiring if a job is available at a company that you would like to work for.

You must always remember that in most cases when you write a letter of application, you in fact establish first contact with the company. From your letter of application, the employer will form a first impression of you. Therefore, it is crucial that you make a good first impression by writing a good business letter.

You should always type your letter, unless you have been asked to hand-write it. Take your time, and type your letter neatly. A neatly typed letter, in the proper format and with all of the words spelled correctly, can be very impressive.

If you do not know how to type, or do not have a typewriter, ask a friend to type your letter for you. If you do not know anyone who can type, look for a local typing service to type your letter for a small fee.

If you are sending this letter to apply for a job as a clerk typist for instance, your letter of application is really important. It will be a good opportunity to show the employer how well you type, and how much you know about business letters.

The following suggestions will help you write good business letters:

- Always write a first copy, or "first draft." Make certain your letter says exactly what you want to say in good English. Pay attention to proper punctuation (the use of the period, comma, question mark, semi-colon, etc.). Also, ask a friend or a teacher to read it, and make any suggestions or corrections to improve the quality of the letter. When you are satisfied with the letter and the form, have the letter typed neatly;

- Never state in your letter how badly you need a job or how nervous you are feeling about writing this letter. You should tell the employer how well you can help him/her if you are given the job;

- Always begin your letter by telling the employer how you heard about him/her, or who referred you to the company;

- Next, indicate a particular job, or group of jobs that you are interested in;

- Now that you have explained that you are applying for a particular job, tell the employer your qualifications or skills which will enable you to do a good job for the company.

- Finally, ask the employer for an interview, at "the employer's convenience," and always remember to close the letter with a short "thank you".

B. Cover Letter

Business letters are written for many other reasons. A cover letter is different from a business letter. If you are asked to send a resume to an employer, the letter that you send with the resume is called a "cover letter." In the cover letter, you thank the prospective employer for the opportunity to send your resume and apply for a job. You should also express your interest in having a job interview with the prospective employer at his/her convenience. A well-written cover letter can help you get a job interview.

C. Inquiry Letter

If you want to get information about job openings, you can write the prospective employer an inquiry letter. In this letter you can ask if there are jobs available and what kind of jobs the employer wants to fill. You can also request the employer to send you a job announcement and a job application.

D. "Thank you" Letter

If the employer answers your letter and invites you in for an interview, you should send a "thank you" letter after the interview.

A good business letter helps you succeed in your job search. Many times, the person who can write a good business letter and make a good first impression will have the best chance to get a job. Examples of a letter of application, a cover letter and a "thank you" letter are provided at the end of this lesson.

LESSON 5

WRITING A RESUME

I. TEXT OVERVIEW

In this lesson, the major emphasis will be on providing the students with the skills necessary to organize their personal data, education, qualifications, employment history and other information, so as to present themselves to a prospective employer by way of a written document known as a "resume". The lesson will show the students how to prepare such a document in a succinct and informative manner.

Keep in mind that limited English proficient students , generally speaking, come from countries where a resume is not required in the job search process. In fact, many people in these countries have never heard of such a thing as a resume. Therefore, it is necessary to explain the importance of this document, and to help your students write their own resume.

Initially, the students will gather their personal data, focusing on the tasks of collecting the data, and then organizing them in such a way that they are able to communicate to others their personal history, skills, and special talents. These tasks can be accomplished by utilizing a simplified personal data sheet.

Having acquired these basic skills, the students will learn how to prepare a more detailed data sheet, the resume; and will begin to learn about the importance of a resume for their future success in finding a job. Clarity, style, neatness, and completeness of this important document will be discussed. A sample of a typical resume and its format can be found at the end of this lesson and before the tests. Please discuss the vocabulary and/or phrases commonly found in a resume with the students.

III. WRITING A RESUME

A resume is a summary of an individual personal history : education, skills and experience. The resume may capture an employer's attention or interest, which may lead to a job interview.

In addition to personal information such as name, address, telephone number, marital status (single, married, divorced, or widowed, etc.) and immigration status (American citizen, legal alien, etc.), the resume is a summary of a person's history including information about his/her skills, educational background, work experience and what he/she has achieved in his/her life. It should be written in a succinct manner. It is a form of advertising , or selling oneself. In the case of a job search, the resume helps get the prospective employer's attention, and hopefully a job interview.

Because your resume represents you, keep it neat, specific and accurate. It should be typed. Remember the old but true saying, "You will never have a second chance to make a first impression."

There is no ideal length for the resume, but most people agree that it should be no more than two pages. Therefore, emphasize your strengths, and omit your shortcomings rather than try to explain them. Mention your education in detail because the employer is interested in your highest level of schooling, and in any courses of studies that are directly applicable to the job you are seeking.

Two styles of presentation are recommended. First, what might be called an "impersonal present tense ". For example, "supervising twenty-four clerks",

"designing machine tools", "selling women's clothing", etc. This style requires the use of "-ing "at the end of the verb (to supervise/ supervising, to design/designing, to sell/selling, etc.). The second style requires the use of the past tense, for instance "supervised twenty-four clerks", "designed machine tools", "sold women's clothing", etc.

Remember that writing a resume requires not only a review of your experience and education but also a clear and logical organization of the collected data. You will learn about yourself while going through this exercise, and be better prepared to make a good presentation at the job interview. Finally, you should always bring at least one copy of your resume to a job interview.

III. THE JOB INTERVIEW

A. What Exactly is a Job Interview?

A job interview is a formal meeting between the job applicant (the interviewee) and the employer (the interviewer). Usually, the meeting will last about twenty minutes or half an hour. Sometimes, it will last longer, sometimes it will be a little shorter. The interview is the most important part of the job search process.

For the employer, the interview is the best way to find out what the job applicant is really like. After reading the job applicant's resume and cover letter, and after looking over the job applicant's job application form, the employer finally gets to meet the job applicant in person.

For you, the job applicant, the interview is very important because it gives you an opportunity to meet the person you may be working for. The interviewer will ask a number of questions about your background: education, work experience, skills, interests, hobbies, etc. After having answered all of these questions or if you are encouraged by the interviewer to ask any questions you might have about the job, including wages or salary and benefits, you might do so. At the end of the interview, do not forget to show the interviewer how much you want the job, and how well you will be able to serve the company.

B. Preparing for the Interview

In order to do your best at the interview, you must prepare yourself before the actual meeting or interview.

First, when the interview is scheduled, write down the exact time of the meeting. Next ask for directions to the place where the meeting will be held. Even if you think you know where the location is, double-check it. Write down the directions correctly to be certain that you are going to the correct address.

In addition to the resume and the properly completed job application, ask the contact person if he/she wants you to bring any additional documents.

Finally, find out the name of the person who will interview you. Make sure that you know how to pronounce his/her name properly. If you are not sure of the name, or the pronunciation, ask the person you are speaking with to repeat the name, and spell it out for you. Also ask the title or position of the person you are going to see.

The day before the interview, review the time of the interview, the location, the name of the person you will be meeting, and any additional documents which you have been asked to bring with you. Make sure to fill out a job application form, if you have been asked to do so, and have all of the information ready, including the names and addresses of your references.

Also, make certain that you know exactly where the meeting will be and how you will get there. Are you going to drive or take a bus or train? Maybe somebody is going to take you there. Think about what clothes you will be wearing, so that during the meeting you will look well-groomed and confident. Your appearance is also very important.

C. The Interview

Try and plan your day so that you will arrive at the interview about 5 or 10 minutes early. Arriving late or rushing in does not start the meeting off well.

When you finally meet the interviewer, introduce yourself and speak in a friendly but respectful manner. Do not use slang or interrupt the interviewer while he/she is speaking . Answer his/her questions honestly and with a voice which will make him/her believe that you want the job, and that you will be able to do well what will be asked of you. It is to your advantage to indicate that you are able to follow instructions from supervisors, and also indicate that for you to have a right attitude in the workplace is very important. There may be more than one interviewer. In that case, try to answer all their questions.

After the interview, whether or not you like the interviewer, or would like to work for the company , it is always a good practice to take some type of "follow-up" action. For example, if you were told to call back in a week, make certain to do just that. If you were told that someone would contact you, it would be a good idea to send a "thank you" letter to the interviewer. This letter will show the interviewer that you are interested in working for the company, and it will also keep your name fresh in their minds as they decide whom they will hire.

If you have followed all of the above suggestions, you should feel confident and be well-prepared for any question they may ask you at the interview. The following are some of the questions commonly asked during the job interview.

D. COMMON INTERVIEW QUESTIONS

It will be very helpful if you look over these questions carefully, and think about how you would answer them well, to guarantee a successful job interview.

- "Why would you like to work for our company?"
- "Are you looking for a full-time or part-time position?"
- "Why do you think that you can do this job?"
- "Where have you worked in the past? Why did you quit those jobs?"
- "What were your favorite subjects in school? What were your least favorite subjects?"
- "Did you participate in any extra-curricular activities at school? If so, what were they?"
- "What would you like to do in five years? In ten years?"
- "Would you rather work alone or with others?"
- "What do you feel are your main strengths? What is your main weakness?"
- "What do you like to do in your spare time?"
- "What starting salary do you expect?"
- "Have you ever had any serious illnesses in the past?"
- "Do you smoke cigarettes?"
- "When can you begin to work?"
- "How did you become interested in this company?"

- "Are there any questions that you want to ask?"

III. THE SOCIAL SECURITY SYSTEM AND THE W-4 FORM

A. THE SOCIAL SECURITY SYSTEM

During the working years, practically every American with an income has to pay the social security tax. His/her employer also has to pay the same amount of tax on his/her behalf. The U.S. government agency which collects and deposits this tax in special funds is the Internal Revenue Service, commonly known as the IRS. The benefits generated from the funds will be paid to the tax payer and/or his/her family at a later day when they become eligible. The more the tax payer contributes during the working years, the bigger the monthly cash benefit will be.

The following are some of the circumstances in which the person will be eligible for social security benefits:

1. when he/she is retired at 62 years of age or older;
2. when he/she becomes disabled and can no longer work;
3. when he/she dies. In this case, his/her eligible family members (spouse and children under the age of 18) will collect the benefits.

The purpose of social security benefits is to replace part of the lost earnings and help support the eligible individual(s). The Social Security Administration, a federal agency, decides the eligibility and administers the social security funds.

One portion of the contribution the working person makes goes into a separate health insurance trust fund. This fund will help pay health care costs such as hospital bills, doctor's bills and other medical expenses.

B. THE W-4 FORM or EMPLOYEE'S WITHHOLDING ALLOWANCE CERTIFICATE

When you begin to work at a new job, you will always be asked to fill out a W-4 form, or the Employee's Withholding Allowance Certificate. This legal form will enable your new employer to withhold from your pay the appropriate monies for social security and income taxes that every income earner in the United States has to pay. There are exceptions. The amount of money which is deducted from the pay will be recorded with the government using your social security number. The social security portion of the tax withholding will be used to pay social security benefits to the tax payer or his/her family later on.

If you do not have a social security number, you should apply for it as soon as possible. But why must you have such a number?

Once you have applied for and received your social security number, this number will stay with you until you die. Every where you work, the employer will ask you to fill out the W-4 form which requires, among other things, your social security number. In this way, when your employer deducts social security tax from your earnings, it will be credited to your social security account. This account is identified by your social security number. The social security number can also be used as an identification number (ID) in many situations, such as payroll, school registration, bank account, etc.

It is also very important that you complete and understand the W-4 form properly. Your take-home money (earning after all taxes) depends on how many dependents or allowances you claim on the W-4 form. Generally, the more dependents you claim the more money you will receive in your paycheck. However, be certain that the number of dependents is correct, because if you have made a mistake on this form, at the end of the year, the government may require you to pay an additional amount of tax to correct a mistake you have made. If you cannot or do not know how to fill out the W-4 form, get help from your employer, teacher, counselor, relative or friend.

The following is a copy of the W-4 form for your study and practice:

III. READING THE W-2 FORM

As you have already learned, each time you are paid, your employer is required to withhold certain taxes from your paycheck. These taxes are based upon the information you provided on your W-4 form. They include the withheld taxes known as F.I.C.A (social security tax), federal tax, state tax and local tax (city, town, etc.). On your behalf, the employer then has to pay these taxes to different government agencies: the social security, Medicare and federal taxes go to the Internal Revenue Service, a federal agency also known as the I.R.S., the state tax goes to the state and the city tax to the city. But at the end of each year it would be very difficult to remember how much money your employer has deducted from your paychecks, especially if you switch jobs.

The W-2 Wage and Tax Statement commonly known as the W-2 form is the form which shows all the deductions. The law requires each of your employers (if you work for more than one employer) to give you a W-2 form by the end of January each year. Among other things, this form contains the name of your employer, your name, your social security number and your address. On this W-2 form your employer also provides you with all of the important information about how much you were paid during the past year and how much your employer deducted from your earnings for different taxes (social security, Medicare, federal, state, local, etc.).

Your employer must give you more than one copy of the W-2 form. This is because when you file your tax returns you must send, along with these returns, one copy to the I.R.S., one copy to the state government and one copy to the local government such as the city or the town where you work. Finally, one of the copies will be for your records.

You will also notice different dollar amounts listed in different boxes on the form. The title of each box tells you what the amount is for.

Box #10, titled wages, tips, and other compensation, represents the total amount of your income for the year. To get the total withholdings, you add the following boxes: Box (9) Federal income tax withheld, Box (11) Social security tax withheld, Box (15) Medicare tax withheld, Box (18) Other, Box (24) State income tax, and Box (27) Local income tax withheld. Box (12) Social security wages tells you the amount of your earnings that is taxable for social security benefits. Box (14) Medicare wages and tips lists the amount of earnings that is taxable for Medicare benefits. Please notice that the amount listed in Box (21) Local wages, tips, etc. is not necessarily the same as the amount listed in box (10) because a certain amount of money from your income has been withheld by your employer for special purposes such as your pension plan or health insurance. This withheld money is non-taxable. The following is a sample of the W-2 form for you to examine:

Initially, students will examine how their total pay is calculated. Examples will include flat salaries as well as hourly rates.

Thereafter, students will look at the concepts of gross pay, net pay and the various deductions. Each deduction will be discussed, so that the students understand the purpose of each deduction, and the benefits derived from the deductions.

III. TEACHING SUGGESTIONS

The following are suggested steps to teach each lesson, but of course the teacher should use whatever techniques he/she feels comfortable with:

1. first, the student should be given enough time to skim over the whole lesson in order to have some ideas about the contents of the lesson;
2. using simple language, summarize the main theme(s) of the lesson as well as its objectives;
3. encourage the student to study the Key Words and Their Laotian Translations;
4. teach the lesson using different techniques such as the use of synonyms, antonyms, prefixes and suffixes, oral and written practices of key vocabularies and concepts, information questions with "what", "who", "why", "when", "how", etc. Furthermore, capitalize on already learned vocabularies , grammatical structures and concepts in teaching new vocabularies and concepts in a meaningful context, using examples or sentences to make the point or explain the lesson;
5. review what has just been taught;

LESSON 9

1. identify the various items found on the pay stub;
2. understand the various deductions listed on the pay stub;
3. determine how gross and net pays are calculated;

III. READING A PAYCHECK

Each time you receive a paycheck, also known as payroll check, you will find that it contains a lot of very important information. The paycheck describes how your employer calculated the amount of your paycheck. It also lists the total amounts of earnings and deductions for each particular period called the pay period, and also from the beginning of the year to the date of the paycheck. The pay period can be one or two weeks. Since the information is contained in the paycheck, it is necessary that you understand exactly what all of this information means.

In most cases, your paycheck consists of two (2) parts: the actual check, and the pay stub. This check represents the amount of money available to you after all the deductions during the pay period. The amount on your check is your net pay. You can cash the paycheck by presenting it to a bank or a cashing place, or you can deposit it in your bank account. In both cases, you have to sign or endorse the check by putting your signature on the back of the check.

When you cash the paycheck, the bank or check cashing place does not need the pay stub. However, you should keep the pay stub because it contains a lot of very important information about your earnings and all deductions. This information helps you understand how your net pay was calculated.

In examining the pay stub, you should first examine it to see if the proper amount for the current pay period has been paid to you.

To calculate your current net pay, you must first determine what your current gross pay should be. If you are paid on an hourly basis, you must multiply the number of hours worked during the pay period by the pay rate per hour. For example, if your pay period is one week, and if you worked forty (40) hours, and your regular hourly rate is six (6) dollars per hour, then your gross pay will be calculated as follows:

Gross pay: 40 hours x $6.00 = $240.00

If you work more than forty (40) hours during the week, you are entitled to overtime pay. The hourly overtime rate is higher than your regular hourly rate. The overtime rate can be as much as 50% higher than the regular rate. This rate is called "time-and-a-half." For example, if you get $10 an hour at the regular rate, your overtime rate can be as high as $15.00 an hour. However, overtime pay only applies to the number of hours exceeding 40. In other words, if you worked a total of 45 hours during the week, the overtime rate only applies to 5 hours, and the other 40 hours will be paid at the regular rate. The following calculations will demonstrate the point discussed here:

40 hours x $10.00 an hour = $400.00 (regular pay rate)
5 hours x $15.00 an hour = 75.00 (overtime rate)

Total earning: $475.00

If you are paid the same amount each pay period, it is not necessary to perform any type of calculation to figure your gross pay, which is usually referred to as your "salary."

In either case, in order to determine your net pay, you must subtract all of your current deductions from your gross pay. These current deductions are all of the different taxes, social security withholding, and any other deductions such as insurance, savings or retirement that are deducted from your gross pay. This result will be your net pay, and you should make certain that this same amount is on the front of your paycheck, written out in words and in numbers.

The other information represents the total amount which you have been paid during the year. This information is called "year to date" information. The year to date information includes the totals of all of your income and deductions, both individually and in total for the year. Although some of the calculations, such as the various taxes, may be difficult for you to calculate, in most cases it is easier to total the other items such as insurance or savings deductions. Since these deductions are usually voluntary and of great value to you and your family, it is important that you review these calculations on each pay stub.

It can also be very helpful if you keep the pay stub from each one of your paychecks. You should find a safe place in your home, and keep the stubs in good order. In this way, should you ever find a mistake in your pay or deductions, it will be easier to explain the mistake to your employer with the use of your previous pay stubs as examples.

LESSON 10

HOW TO USE AND RECONCILE

CHECKING ACCOUNTS

I. TEXT OVERVIEW

In this lesson, students will learn how to use and properly maintain a personal checking account.

The lesson will begin with a review of the general rules that govern checking accounts. Students will then examine the proper procedures for making deposits and writing personal checks. Special emphasis will be placed on the proper maintenance of an account record, and the importance of recording deposits, checks and any other transactions or expenditures in the check register.

The concluding portion of this lesson will cover the necessity of properly reconciling a personal checking account, and the procedures to complete the reconciliation. This will serve not only as a review of the entire lesson, but also to develop the skills necessary to enable the student to make full use of the bank's services. As such, it is hoped that the student will have enough confidence to inquire about the procedures that he/she may not understand, and to discover possible errors that can be found in his/her account.

III. TEACHING SUGGESTIONS

The following are suggested steps to teach each lesson, but of course the teacher should use whatever techniques he/she feels comfortable with:

1. first, the student should be given enough time to skim over the whole lesson in order to have some ideas about the contents of the lesson;
2. using simple language, summarize the main theme(s) of the lesson as well as its objectives;
3. encourage the student to study the Key Words and Their Laotian Translations;
4. teach the lesson using different techniques such as the use of synonyms, antonyms, prefixes and suffixes, oral and written practices of key vocabularies and concepts, information questions with "what", "who", "why", "when", "how", etc. Furthermore, capitalize on already learned vocabularies , grammatical structures and concepts in teaching new vocabularies and concepts in a meaningful context, using examples or sentences to make the point or explain the lesson;
5. review what has just been taught;
6. go over Key Words and/or Phrases for Discussion;
7. administer tests and give feedback as soon as possible;
8. praise the student for his/her effort to learn.

III. HOW TO USE BANKING SERVICES

Having a personal checking account can be very helpful and can offer many advantages in managing money. However, if you do not understand the bank's rules and service charges or fees, and if you do not use your bank account properly, a checking account can also be very troublesome and sometimes very expensive.

Therefore, whether you already have a checking account or you are about to open an account, ask a person who works at the bank for a copy of the rules and a schedule of service fees or charges for checking accounts. Some banks charge a fee for each check you sign but waive this fee if you maintain a certain balance in your account.

A. MAKING DEPOSITS

When you first open your account, you will receive a book of blank checks without your name printed on them. However, about a week later your bank will send you a supply of checks and deposit slips with your name on them. The bank will charge to your account the cost of this supply.

The way you put money in your account is to make a deposit. To do so, you will have to use a deposit slip with your name and your account number printed on it. These slips are usually found in the back of your book of checks. A sample deposit slip can be found at the end of this lesson. For practice purposes, fill out the deposit slip correctly and completely. Make certain that you write the proper dollar amount(s) on the slip and the date of the deposit. Add the items of the deposit if there is more than one. It is also very important to record the date and amount of the deposit in the check register. Keep the deposit receipt which the bank gives you when you make your deposit. The receipt is proof of the deposit and is needed when you reconcile your account or if there is a question about the deposit.

B. WRITING A CHECK OR WITHDRAWING MONEY

When you write a personal check to pay a bill or to buy something, it is also very important that you write the check properly and completely, including the name of the payee. An incomplete check could be forged or used in a manner which you did not intend. A copy of a sample personal check can be found at the end of this lesson.

Before writing a check, make sure that you have enough money in your account to cover the check. If you write a check without enough money in your account, the bank will not honor your check because of insufficient funds, and will return it to you. In this case, your check bounces and your account is overdrawn. The bank will charge you a fee for handling the bouncing check. This fee or charge can cost as much as $30.00 per bad check.

Always use a pen whenever you write a personal check, . If you write a check in pencil, the dollar amount of the check and the name of the payee could be erased or changed, or the check could be forged.

Make certain that the dollar amounts are correct, and that the numbers and the written words indicating the amount are the same. Sign and date the check properly, and fill all of the spaces properly. Leaving blank spaces on the check could also allow someone to change the amount or falsify the check. Finally, before you remove the check from the pad, or give it to someone, make certain that you have recorded it properly, including the date and amount in the check register.

C. RECONCILING YOUR ACCOUNT

Each month you will receive a statement from the bank describing all of the transactions which occurred in your account over the past month. This statement lists all of the deposits you made to your account, as well as all of the checks which you wrote during this period. All of the checks which have cleared your account are returned to you along with the statement.

In order to maintain your account properly, it is necessary to reconcile your account. This procedure is very important if you want to know exactly how much money you have in your account; which checks are still pending; how much has been deposited; and any fees which the bank may have charged you over the past month.

In order to reconcile or balance your checking account, you must first look at all of the checks which you have written for that particular month and which have been returned to you. These canceled checks should be checked against the information recorded in your check register. Next, you must list all of the pending checks which you wrote over the past month but have not yet cleared.

Next, compare the balance in your check register with the "ending balance" on the bank statement. It is very likely that these balances will not agree. However, if you add all the pending checks and the ending balance on the bank statement, the total should be the same as the balance in your check register, and your account is reconciled. Remember, reconciling your account is not always easy, and sometimes it can take a long time. But if you do not reconcile your account each month, you cannot keep track of your money, and sometimes it can become very expensive because of a loss as a result of mistakes made by the bank.
